Low Mill 1928

This edition celebrates the past, the present and the future of Addingham. It's worth pondering the differences yet similarities of our lives today compared with villagers who experienced Low Mill's expansion 100 years ago (the building work pictured above during 1928, in the mid-war years) and then, going back another 100 years, to those who gathered, in April 1826, to witness rioters marching to tear down newly installed power looms. Perhaps villagers felt the same qualms about the pace of change that we might be all feeling today - but one thing's for sure – the same spirit of support for one another stretches across time.

Lucy Steer, Parish Clerk writes about the newly formed Addingham Community Network.

Our network initiative got off to a fantastic start, with a wide range of local voluntary organisations, charities and community groups coming together for an inspiring first meeting in June. It provided a valuable opportunity to share experiences, exchange ideas and explore ways of working together to strengthen community support for the benefit of us all.

The Parish Council want to thank everyone for the enthusiasm shown and the willingness of groups to share resources and build stronger connections across our village. We're committed to helping residents stay informed about everything happening in Addingham. This includes ensuring the 'What's On' section of our Parish Council website is regularly updated, creating a convenient one-stop shop for local events, activities and organisations.

Any group or organisation can join the Addingham Community Network. And if you want to help in any way Do get in touch! Please share your activities and events for the 'What's On' section of www.addingham-pc.gov.uk by contacting Lucy at clerk@addingham-pc.gov.uk.

Addingham Parish Council

FROM VAVASOUR TO PUBLIC SERVICE

The story behind Addingham Parish Council's new logo.

The updated new Addingham Parish Council logo has been designed to reflect both the history of the village and the modern role of the Parish Council, at its centre a distinctive gold shield carrying a black zig-zag band. Have you ever wondered why you see so many variations of these zig zags around the village? Please read on to find out more!

The Vavasours and Addingham

The Vavasour family has a long and significant connection with Addingham. Historical information, held by St Peter's Church, records that the Vavasours became owners and Lords of the Manor of Addingham and retained their interest until the early eighteenth century. Sir Henry Vavasour was Lord of the Manor of Addingham towards the end of the fifteenth century. His son, Leonard Vavasour, became Rector of Addingham in 1483 and during his time the old Norman church was replaced with the late Perpendicular church, parts of which survive in the current structure. These historic connections can still be seen in Addingham today.

The Vavasour coat of arms

The historic Vavasour arms are described heraldically as: "Or, a fess dancetty, sable." In plain English, this means a gold shield with a black zig-zag horizontal band! The distinctive "dancetty" pattern is inspiration for the Parish Council's new design. Rather than reproducing the historic arms exactly, the logo adapts the design into a simple, contemporary graphic which can be used consistently across the Council's communications, signage and digital platforms. As such, a nod to our village's history while establishing a clear and recognisable identity for the modern Addingham Parish Council. We're really pleased with the design. We hope you are too.

LOOKING BACK, MOVING FORWARD

The Council is proud of Addingham's heritage, but its responsibility is also to look forward – maintaining and improving community facilities, supporting residents, protecting the village's character whilst shaping a positive future. From the Vavasours of medieval Yorkshire to a modern parish council, Addingham's story continues!

Have you ever thought about becoming a Councillor? May 2027 sees the next round of elections. Do you have what it takes? Contact Lucy for details

Our many activities

What does Addingham Parish Council do?

The work of the Parish Council is delivered by its elected, unpaid councillors and salaried, part-time Clerk. Much of our activities happen behind the scenes! However, these important responsibilities affect many aspects of everyday life in Addingham. The Council owns and manages community assets, facilities and various plots of land around the village, including the Football & Sports Pavilion, Bowling Club/War Memorial, MUGA, The Old School/Hub and Library, the Nature Reserve, the public toilet and the various allotments. The Council considers planning applications and represents the views of the parish on proposals which may affect the village. It responds to consultations, works with Bradford Council and other public bodies, supports local organisations and helps to protect the character and future of Addingham.

Recent Council achievements include improvements to the MUGA lighting, improvements to heating at the Scout Hall, improvements to community facilities and continued investment in the maintenance and replacement of village benches.

Importantly, we also work alongside community groups and volunteers to support village events and activities, helping to maintain the strong community spirit for which Addingham is known.

Addingham Pre-School

We love Addingham and we love being part of our lovely community. We regularly go walkabouts in the village to look for changes in the environment as a new season starts, to listen to the different sounds around us, to investigate vegetables and fruit growing in the allotments and The Church Orchard, feed the ducks our homemade quack food or just a walk through the delightful garden areas. We regularly make visits to the shops to make a purchase and visit Wendy at The Hub where we're always made to feel very welcome.

Every summer we love taking part in the village Gala! With the different themes each year we love getting dressed up to take part in the parade. This year was no exception as the children made all their own star costumes to represent "Twinkle Twinkle Little Star". We must've looked "Out of This World" as we managed to pick up 1st prize which we were absolutely thrilled about!

We are very proud of our Ofsted grade of "Strong Provider " awarded to us earlier this year and view this as a community achievement as without our fantastic village behind us we couldn't do what we do so well. We are looking forward to yet another successful year within the heart of our lovely community.

Friends of Addingham Primary

The Friends of Addingham Primary would like to extend a huge 'Thank You' to all those who have contributed this year either with donations, volunteering or generally supporting our events.

Special thanks to Addingham Civic Society and Addingham Good Neighbours for their generous donations which have helped us to fund much needed updates to the ICT suite at school this year. We are very proud to be part of a community that has helped to fund a class and a half worth of Chrome Books, as well as other projects at school that include a sensory space, new books and resources for the reception play area. We are looking forward to a great year and hoping to become even more visible in the community as part of the Addingham Community Network.

Our annual Bonfire and Fireworks Extravaganza will be held on Sat 7th Nov.

At our Mulled Wine Social on Friday 4th Dec 3.30 pm we will be selling Christmas Trees and refreshments, and trees again on Sat 5th Dec from 10am. See you then! Contact chairfaps@outlook.com for more info.

Addingham Food Waste Collections

FOOD WASTE COLLECTIONS are being rolled out across the Bradford area from this September. BINS WILL BE COLLECTED WEEKLY.

Bradford Council will provide you with a small kitchen caddy, with liners and an outdoor food waste bin. They will have a lockable lid to reduce odours and keep the contents secure from insects and other pests.

The external food waste bin is not too big so there should still be space for it with your other bins.

The waste goes to be processed by Anaerobic Digestion which means it is broken down by micro-organisms in a way that mimics human digestion! This enables it to be turned into Biogas, a form of renewable energy and Digestate, a nutrient-rich fertiliser used on farmland.

Even if you don't produce much food waste, do still put it in your food waste bin. Nb. use any bag as a liner or none at all. Please continue to follow existing guidelines for recycling or general waste bins as NO packaging, liquids, garden waste or oil can go in with the food waste.

YOUR FOOD WASTE BIN COULD TAKE A LOT OUT OF YOUR GENERAL WASTE . . .

- Leftovers — uneaten food you have scraped off your plate
- Ready meals that have passed their use-by date (without the packaging)
- Raw and cooked vegetables, including mouldy/off produce and peelings
- Coffee grounds, tea bags & leaves

. . . INCLUDING ITEMS NOT COMPOSTED AT HOME OR ON THE ALLOTMENT!

- Bones AND Raw or cooked meat and fish
- Bread, pastries and cakes
- Grains and pulses, such as pasta, rice, lentils and beans
- Dairy goods eg. cheese. Eggs and Eggshells
- Unwanted pet food left in their bowl

It was wonderful to welcome so many families from across the village to St Peter's Family Fun Day this summer. Seeing the church grounds filled with children, families, friends and neighbours enjoying time together was a real highlight and a fantastic celebration of community.

We're excited to build on those connections as we head into autumn and towards Christmas, with more opportunities for children and families to get together, have fun and feel part of our church and village community. There's plenty to look forward to over the coming months, including some special seasonal celebrations. Take a look at the What's On section for details of all our upcoming children's and family events.

Seasonal Events

Addingham is always busy in the next few months. Our What's On pages, p27-29, are full of groups and societies' upcoming Autumn and Christmas events. Our Addingham Facebooks are great sources of information too including: Addingham Community Chat, Addingham Quack and Totally Addingham. DO support our pubs and clubs, churches and halls – they've all got events galore! Here's a few highlights locally:

Addingham Civic Society

Gill Battarbee writes as Chair of Addingham Civic Society. Hello everyone!

Many of you will be aware that the main themes of the society are: Planning, Heritage, Environment and Community. Whilst all our endeavours are ultimately about enriching our village life I'd like to give you a flavour of how our society, of nearly 400 members, approaches our Community activities.

Recently, we publicly acknowledged and thanked the ladies who look after the Kiosk Book Swap, we supported the screening of the Peoples' Emergency Briefing, donated £1,000 towards the Primary School IT fundraiser, organised a sell-out Brass Band concert to celebrate the Environment Group's 10th anniversary, had paid stalls at pretty much all the village events and oh yes, came 2nd in the Village Quiz much to our surprise!

Importantly, we provide financial grants supporting village group initiatives. We also co-share the production and inputs to this village newsletter with our Parish Council.

So... when we heard the PC were launching The Community Network we were really pleased to sign up at the inaugural meeting. It's a great way for all the different groups in the village to support each other, share information and work together.

Why not join our Society? It's easy, only £11 a year and you can be as active or as passive as you wish! Your membership monies will be put to great causes across Addingham and amongst other benefits, you will receive by email a highly prized monthly Newsletter updating you on all things local. Might I say, it makes for a great Facebook alternative – not that we don't use social media ourselves!

Best wishes, Gill

Stewart Taylor writes

The annual Village Show is a classic British tradition, part celebration of community and part exhibition of local horticulture, home-baking, crafts and friendly competition, with a cup of tea, a raffle and tombola thrown in for good measure!

Always the focal point of our events calendar, Addingham's show in August was a fabulous event. 400 entries were submitted on the day! These were all judged by invited experts in their various fields whose work, by their own admission, was not made at all easy by the high quality of exhibits on display which really did show off the skill and craft that exists in our local community.

At the closing ceremony the prize winners were awarded their trophies by Douglas McCowan, a life member and former chair of our Association. I'll leave the last word to our Show Secretary Peter Cooke who as ever very quietly and unassumingly makes it all happen: 'despite the difficult growing conditions for our gardeners and growers we had lots of amazing entries in the vegetable and flower classes, along with an outstanding array of exhibits across the home-baking and crafts classes. The doors were open to the public in the afternoon and the hall soon filled with everyone keen to see who had won the prizes and marvel at the quality on display.

We are firmly committed to upholding this tradition, and I can't thank our local community enough for supporting us in such numbers. My sincere thanks also to the judges, exhibitors, local business sponsors and our behind-the-scenes volunteers who worked so hard to ensure everyone had a memorable day.'

Please scan the QR code to enjoy a lovely highlights film of the Show, brilliantly put together by Rick and Melissa.

200 Years ago . . . Low Mill Riots

Trouble at t' Mill

We jump back in time to the Napoleonic Wars ending in 1815, and the plight of weavers. The effects of mechanisation, as powered wool looms slowly developed, were starting to take hold but primarily conditions were dictated by the labour market. Soldiers, sailors and other workers were laid off as the war machine came to a stop. Employers assembled the weavers into hand loom 'factories' and cut the wages paid for their labour. Weavers, both of cotton and wool, demanded a living wage but were largely unsuccessful, meaning by 1826 they were desperate. Riots started at many local mills in Northern England with mill equipment being destroyed.

On the morning of Wednesday, April 26th 1826 a group of determined men left villages in the Laneshaw Bridge area, near the Lancashire/Yorkshire border, to march to Addingham in Yorkshire and smash the newly installed power looms in Low Mill. Most of them were hand loom weavers. They had been without work for several months and were starving. This group of rioters was joined by Yorkshire men from places such as Addingham, Cowling, Keighley and Eastburn.

Jeremiah Horsfall, who ran Low Mill in Addingham, knew an attack was likely and sought help from William Vavasour, a local JP. Horsfall set off to Leeds on horseback to secure military assistance from the Dragoons leaving his manager, Timothy Lawson, to defend the mill with the help of a few workers.

About five o'clock in the afternoon 400 to 500 men marched through Addingham to Low Mill armed with hayforks, cudgels and axes. c.150 men approached the mill to enter and smash the looms. Lawson refused, offering them money for food. The rioters responded by threatening to throw all the defenders out of the top windows! The mill door was bolted as rioters started pelting the windows with stones whilst stones rained down from the top floors upon them, and sporting guns were fired over their heads and into the mob. Several men were wounded, eleven then cared for in the village. One defender lost two fingers when his blunderbuss exploded.

Ellis Cunliffe Lister, a magistrate and owner of another local mill, arrived and read the Riot Act. Eventually the mob dispersed. Special constables were sworn in and arrests of local men were made.

Men set off again the following day, from the Laneshaw Bridge area, but when they arrived on the slope looking down to Addingham Low Mill they stopped. A newspaper report estimated that there were several thousand people assembled on the hills round the village. After a short debate the men turned back, but about 200 decided to march to Skipton and then on to Gargrave. Their target was Gargrave High Mill where Joseph Mason, who owned the mill, had just installed 25 power looms to replace the hand loom weavers he had previously employed.

Mason made no attempt to defend his mill. When they crossed the bridge in Gargrave about nine o'clock he approached them and offered money for food, but they refused. They marched on, broke down the mill door and smashed the 25 looms and other machinery. Local magistrates had been busy swearing in large numbers of special constables and six of the rioters were arrested.

200 Years ago . . . Low Mill Riots

How many of the men who broke the looms in Gargrave High Mill came from Lancashire that morning is impossible to say. From the evidence collected about those rioters who attacked Low Mill in Addingham the previous day it would seem most were local men. Rioting spread to Bradford Mills and despite being dispersed after breaking windows they attacked again on Wednesday, May 3rd. As they were expected this time the mill was defended by soldiers who killed and wounded men and boys.

Five men arrested after the riots at Addingham were sent under military escort to York Castle and three were sentenced to death though they probably only served prison sentences.

If a silver lining can be found to this story a boom occurred in the supply industries to the new Woollen and Cotton Mills of Northern England.

One local company, Hattersleys of Keighley, had a worldwide reputation for the production of Weaving Looms. They employed many people, both locally and in assembly abroad, including some of the Bancroft family, ancestors of the author of the genealogy blog from which this story is taken!

With many thanks to Jarlath Bancroft for his kind permission to use his text.

Addingham Cricket Club

Peter Etchell writes You wait for decades, for Addingham CC to win the Waddilove Cup for the first time in our history and we did, last year. And then we went and did it again this year with a comprehensive victory over Saltaire in the Finals in August! It's no mean feat as the Waddilove Cup is the premier knockout competition in the Airedale & Wharfedale Senior cricket league.

Up there with the cup victory is the club setting out to have a women's team. We held the first taster session at the club and were blown away when 22 women and girls came to try out cricket! The feedback has been really good and further sessions are now planned with all welcome. No previous cricket experience is required and we hope to have proper fixtures next season.

As our 2026 season comes to a close we thank the village for its support along with our supporters and sponsors.

Climate Action Addingham (CAA)

DISINFORMATION IS WIDESPREAD Addingham Residents call for government action on a national briefing on climate change. On Friday 3rd July we had a capacity audience in the Memorial Hall to watch a 50-minute film based upon the National Emergency Briefing, delivered by leading UK climate scientists and other independent experts, in Westminster in November 2025. We then all took part in a follow-up discussion on climate change and biodiversity loss. The event was introduced by parish councillor Jonathan Walsh and facilitated by John Marsham, Professor of Atmospheric Science at the University of Leeds and member of Climate Action Ilkley. The film sets out powerful evidence for the climate and nature emergency we face along with solutions that could benefit people, nature, national security and the economy.

The turnout reflects many of us in Addingham wanting to understand these challenges and importantly, know what can be done. A 2023 village questionnaire recorded c.95 % of Addingham residents were “concerned” or “very concerned”

Professor Marsham notes “Disinformation is widespread and a televised briefing would highlight the positive impacts that come from action. Contrary to the current anti-net zero narrative being pushed by some, an orderly and green transition is an economic opportunity that both delivers growth across all regions and creates jobs.”

about climate change.

Attendees signed a public statement calling on HM Government to broadcast a nationally televised briefing, presented by independent experts, to explain the seriousness of the climate and nature emergency, the solutions and the choices. We believe that people deserve straightforward, science-based information about the risks posed by climate change and nature loss and the actions needed to address them.

The film has now been shown in over 3,400 venues across the UK. If you missed it at Addingham see the interactive map <https://www.nebriefing.org/screening-map> on the National Emergency Briefing website to find other screenings; locally there is Ilkley Christchurch Methodists on the Grove on 23rd Oct & Silsden Methodist Church on 29th Oct at 7pm.

Villagers were encouraged to contact our MP, Robbie Moore who had formally written to Keir Starmer PM and, since our meeting, he has written to our new PM, Andy Burnham.

Climate Action Addingham (CAA)

Geoff Mills, AEG, summed up action being taken locally by our various community groups:

- ! St Peter's Church, striving to become an eco-Church and achieve net zero by 2030
- ! CAA Zero Waste group, organising Jumble Trails, the pop-up refill shop and promoting recycling opportunities

- ! Allotments and Gardens Association (AAGA) committed to promoting rainwater harvesting systems across the village, starting with allotments

- ! Addingham Primary School with its Climate Action Plan committed to meeting net zero by 2050, with sustainability embedded throughout the curriculum

- ! Friends of the Wharfedale Greenway promoting active transport better for the environment and for people's well-being

- ! AEG together with CAA creating more wildlife-friendly space and restoring land for nature throughout the village

- ! Bracken Ghyll Golf Club management of its golf course in a wildlife friendly way

- WE ALL NEED TO ACT Seeking to understand the issues and acting locally, to reduce our heavy footprints, we can better educate ourselves and lobby our politicians. The principal immediate action being to sign the petition asking Government to hold a televised briefing: nebriefing.org/take-action

Additionally, consider these ideas. Links to the film and more information can be found on the National Emergency briefing website: www.nebriefing.org/take-action and our own CAA website below

- ✓ Amongst YOUR community group host a screening of this film. It doesn't need to be fancy and we, CAA, can advise.
- ✓ Watch the full version of the expert briefings. It's a valuable experience.
- ✓ Read A Climate of Truth by Mike Berners Lee. It's an excellent introduction.
- ✓ Take a look at the UK Climate Change Committee website.
- ✓ Talk about climate change and nature loss with your friends and family.
- ✓ Sign up to our CAA email updates and keep abreast of local activities on our website <https://www.climateactionaddingham.info/> and access our latest report https://www.climateactionaddingham.info/CCQ_CAA_Final%20Report.pdf

You are always welcome to contact me, Rick Battarbee at aeg@addingham.info

Addingham Garden Friends

Fiona Walton writes:

We would welcome new members to our Gardening Group as this dry summer has proved quite a challenge to keep the village gardens attractive! Nevertheless, we are pleased to update you on two current projects: Hen Pen and The Sailor Garden.

After many concerns about the safety of small children running out of the Hen Pen onto Sugar Hill, we are delighted to have provided a new gate. Our thanks go to the Parish Council who funded its purchase. The Sailor Garden (on the corner above The Lord Addingham) is having a revamp this autumn, to give it a more woodland feel. A donation from the Beer Festival is helping with the cost of the alterations – so watch this space.

Addingham Drama Group

programme

Addingham Drama Group's autumn play is the classic Yorkshire farce: When We Are Married by Bradford born playwright J B Priestley. Set in 1908, it follows the plight of 3 couples: the Helliwells, the Parkers and the Soppitts, who were married 25 years previously, on the same day, by the same parson. Gathered at the Helliwell home to celebrate their silver weddings they are interrupted by the new chapel organist who tells them that they may not legally be married! Having recently met the parson who conducted the triple wedding he discovers the clergyman was not authorised to do so. Pandemonium breaks out when these pillars of society believe they have been living in sin for 25 years.

The cast posing in 1990 has ties to the Priestley family. June and the playwright's sister, Winifred (Winnie), taught together at Cowling Infants in the 1950's.

"Managing a cast of 14 will require dedication and teamwork from everyone involved, both backstage and on stage" says Director Jane Aldridge. Come and learn the art of stage craft! New members are always welcomed. P31 has our details.

This play holds huge significance for the group, having first been performed in 1975 by the then Addingham Parent Teachers Association. It was such a resounding success that Addingham Drama Group was formed and is still going strong more than 50 years later!

The play was repeated again in 1990 with some of the original cast members. In addition, one of the group's oldest members, June Crabtree, CURTAIN UP October 20, 21, 22, 23, starting at 7.30pm, doors and wine bar open from 7pm. Saturday 24th performances start 2.30pm and 6pm.

Addingham Bowling Club

Joe Ginty writes: Our Bowling season runs from April to the end of October and this year we have experienced extremes in weather conditions which have tested our resilience! The Club fields teams in the Worth Valley League (Saturday and Veterans) and the Skipton League (54321 and Merit). It is an honour to represent Addingham and all players give their utmost to make the Club a force to be reckoned with. During June, we welcomed Addingham Beavers, Scouts and Explorers.

A generous award of £450 from the 2025 Addingham Beer Festival facilitated us purchasing our 'Bowls Buddies' equipment for these sessions. These young villagers showed great enthusiasm and many of the older ones progressed to 'real' bowls loaned by the Club and quickly demonstrated their prowess.

This season we introduced 'Social Bowling' every Friday afternoon from 1.30pm - 3.30pm for anyone from the village, members and non members alike. These sessions have proved very popular with many people playing Bowls for the first time. Some have joined the club as social members whilst others now play at a competitive level. Over the summer we also extended the Friday invitation to the Addingham Explorers and hope they take the opportunity to take their game to the next level. We thank the Scout leaders for their support and involvement and look forward to seeing them again next year.

What a season! Our Saturday team in the Supplementary Cup, our Vets A team in the Holmes Shield and our Vets B team in the Ellis Shield have, at time of printing, ALL reached their semi-finals. It's a cliffhanger... For updates on their final results and Club news see our FB page: <https://www.facebook.com/61587938184089/> and Addingham Quack

Methodists in Addingham

Dear Friends, we have moved! We now worship on Sunday mornings at 10:30am in Addingham's Roman Catholic Church (RCC), Our Lady and English Martyrs on Bolton Road. We are very grateful for the warm welcome we have received from the congregation and Fr. Tim. You are most welcome to join us for worship in this beautiful, peace-filled space.

Soon we will share dates for Soulful Walking outings for the Autumn and dates for our special Christmas-time services. Please visit our website www.addinghammethodistchurch.org.uk and our Facebook page.

We continue to be highly involved with Addingham Churches Together (ACT). We look forward to seeing you at the Village's Remembrance Day ceremony on November 8th and the Village's Christmas Light Switch-On.

We thank you, Addingham, for all the support you've given us throughout the years. God is good! We pray that God will help us to continue to love and serve our village with grace and enthusiasm.

Every blessing, ~ Rev. Shannon

Dingham Dashers

Dingham Dashers would like to report a cracking rounders season, playing up and down the 'dale and here in Addingham on Hoffman Wood Field and, once the cricketers wound down, on the cricket pitch outfield. Poor weather early on meant frustrating cancelled fixtures (credit to Zoe Hall for managing the schedule!) but we've gone on to win the majority of our games against other local teams, with superb performances including a stunning 39.5–28.5 win against Hellfield and a thrilling 22–21 victory over Crosshills.

Although we're a friendly, non-league team we play to win and that teamwork and eager streak has led to 3 of our top talent also playing now with local league team Smashbox, who this year only went and won the National Finals! AND it'd be rude not to mention they also made it into the England Talent Pathways Trials. Well done Lucy Hartley, Alex Fryer and Hollie Ogden.

Huge thanks to ACC for becoming our host venue, where we use the bar & kitchen to entertain our guests with homemade suppers that are proving almost as popular as the rounders! The community support and spirit this brings to our home games means a lot. We're looking forward to our next season already, with autumn training on the MUGA lined up and... watch this space... as 2027 may see a potential collaboration of rounders & cricket- we best brush up on the rules!

Addingham Environment Group (AEG)

Celebrating Old Station Way Wildflower Meadow

On Saturday 27 June, it was wonderful to see so many people enjoying the floral delights of Addingham Environment Group's 'best in class' wildflower meadow, 10 years after Fiona Walton persuaded Bradford Council to change its mowing regime. The old railway land's poor, low-nutrient soil is, believe it or not, ideal for native wildflowers and we are now reaping the benefits of years of effort by our diligent sowers of yellow rattle seed, growers of wildflowers and the planters of many plug plants creating this beautiful space. Thanks too to Bradford Council's mowing team for cutting the paths and margins through the summer and doing the end of August

'cut and collect' once the flowers have set seed. And not forgetting the bumble bees, working through the spring and summer to feed on the nectar and pollinate the flowers. They play a vital role in helping the meadow get better every year.

Our AEG crew was on hand to show how the meadow has developed, providing interactive sessions potting wildflowers and making butterfly finger puppets whilst bee enthusiast Maurice White explained to visitors how high temperatures impact bee activity meaning they're less active, staying in the shade of the plants. Thanks as always to the AEG team and thanks too for additional invaluable support from Addingham Scouts, the WI refreshments team and St Peter's Church.

Addingham Environment Group (AEG)

Feedback on our plans for an interpretation board and a bench, looking out over the meadow to Beamsley Beacon, garnered strong support. Another group of villagers in August also concluded it's the perfect spot to look out into the distance amongst swaying flowers and grasses; they enjoyed fine views, through viewers and glasses, to experience the partial Eclipse!

Of late, the grasses have now been cut and raked by AEG volunteers and collected up by the Council, leaving the meadow in readiness for autumn. Long may this beautiful spot flourish. Watch out for further news on our bench and board. Jan Hindle

HOFFMAN WOOD FIELD UPDATE The Parish Council working with AEG and other CAA partners, have appointed Yorkshire Dales Millennium Trust's community landscape architects to start working on designs for a more play and wildlife friendly space. There will be two workshops over the autumn to capture ideas from young people, current users and residents, plus wider village consultation on the plan. Dates will be shared on Quack and AEG Facebook pages, in the Civic Society newsletter but you can also email Lucy, parish clerk for more details.

Ilkley and Addingham Scouts Peruvian Adventure

Explorer Scouts from Ilkley and Addingham have returned home after an incredible two-week international expedition to Peru.

The Explorers were part of a 40-strong West Yorkshire Scouts expedition, including 30 Explorer Scouts and 10 adult volunteer leaders, following two years of planning and preparation. During their trip, the young people trekked the historic Inca Trail to Machu Picchu, explored Cusco and took part in community work at a local school.

The adventure wasn't without its challenges! The group experienced missed flights, difficult travel arrangements and horrendous weather conditions while trekking the Inca Trail. They also experienced an earthquake which struck around 200 kilometres from their base in Cusco. However, the young people took every challenge in their stride, demonstrating fantastic teamwork, resilience and determination.

The expedition was supported by volunteer leaders from Addingham, Burley-in-Wharfedale and Menston, whose hard work and leadership helped make the trip possible. For the Explorers, the expedition was far more than a holiday. They experienced a completely different culture, challenged themselves physically and mentally, worked with local communities and made memories that will last a lifetime.
